Attention: Mr. Richard L. Brown, Librarian

Dear Sir:

We have no facilities for dissemination to other than government agencies. However, scientific and technical translations made by us have been furnished to the Library of Congress and by them to the Special Libraries Association Translation Center at the John Crerar Library, 86 East Randolph Street, Chicago, Illinois. They may be readily procured from the latter.

These translations have been regularly listed in the Crerar publication Translation Monthly which is a listing of translations available and published at Crerar Library. We believe that they maintain an extensive index going back to 1949.

Sincerely yours,

Executive Officer

Dear Sirs:

I notice that translations of Russian Scientific Documents will be made available for public use through Central Intelligence Agency.

As a government depository, are we eligible for such translations free?

Thanking you in advance, I am

Sincerely yours,

Richard L. Brown
